

NEWS RELEASE

*OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES ATTORNEY
WESTERN DISTRICT OF MISSOURI*

TODD P. GRAVES

---

Contact Don Ledford, Public Affairs • (816) 426-4220 • 400 East Ninth Street, Room 5510 • Kansas City, MO 64106

---

AUGUST 23, 2002
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

KC MAN SENTENCED IN 'LEN BIAS' CASE
FOR COCAINE DISTRIBUTION RESULTING IN FATAL OVERDOSE FOR PRAIRIE VILLAGE WOMAN

KANSAS CITY, Mo. – Todd P. Graves, United States Attorney for the Western District of Missouri, announced that a Kansas City man was sentenced today for distributing cocaine that resulted in a fatal overdose for a 20-year-old Prairie Village, Kansas, woman in May 2000.

Derrick Bruce Smith, 34, of Kansas City, Mo., was sentenced this morning by Chief U.S. District Judge Dean Whipple to 28 years, 4 months in prison without parole on Count One of a federal indictment. The court also sentenced Smith to 20 years in prison without parole on Count Two of the federal indictment, to be served concurrently.

Smith was convicted by a federal jury on January 8, 2002, of one count of distribution of cocaine resulting in death, and one count of possession with intent to distribute cocaine. Evidence presented at trial, Graves said, showed that in the early morning hours of May 18, 2000, Smith distributed cocaine, and as a result of the use of the drug, Elizabeth Callison, 20, of Prairie Village, Kansas, died.

According to Graves, the case against Smith was the first of its kind to be brought in the Western District of Missouri under a federal statute that is sometimes referred to as the "Len Bias law."

Under most circumstances, federal law provides a maximum punishment of 20 years in prison without parole, plus a fine up to $1 million, for persons convicted of simple distribution of cocaine. However, Graves explained, the federal Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986 provides a minimum mandatory sentence of 20 years in prison without parole, and a possible maximum sentence of life without parole, for persons convicted of distributing controlled substances that result in death.

(MORE)

LEN BIAS LAW

Page 2 of 2

Congress passed the legislation partly in response to the June 19, 1986, death of Len Bias, a University of Maryland basketball star who overdosed on cocaine two days after being chosen as the No. 1 NBA draft pick of the Boston Celtics.

The case was prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorneys Mark A. Miller and David A. Barnes. It was investigated by the Kansas City, Mo., Police Department, the Jackson County Prosecuting Attorney's Office and Internal Revenue Service -- Criminal Investigation Division.

*****